Information for referring doctors

Micro-invasive carpal tunnel release is a novel way of doing carpal tunnel release different to endoscopic or open carpal tunnel release. It cuts the transverse carpal ligament completely from inside the carpal tunnel. Over 1600 procedures have now been performed at the clinic. Our audit shows the micro-invasive carpal tunnel release has a good long term result.

For potential same day procedures (available to patients who need to travel a long distance to Melbourne or Wangaratta) please organise and send through nerve conduction studies or a positive ultrasound assessment.

I will assess all patients with ultrasound during their consultation

Patients should be referred for the ultrasound assessment and procedure to:

A/Prof Peter Hebbard
6 Green St
Wangaratta

The mailbox in Melbourne is not very secure and is not recommended.

Patients can also photograph or scan their referrals and send them by email.

We also use Medical Objects
